Meet Assistant Town Manager
Andrew Warren

Andrew Warren was promoted to assistant town manager in July. He served as the Town's planning director for two years prior to being named assistant town manager and has 16 years of experience working in local government.

"I am thrilled to continue doing what I love in a town that I love, but in a position that allows me to tackle more diverse issues and opportunities," Andrew said. "I particularly look forward to focusing on economic development and ways in which we can make Christiansburg the best place to live, work and play."

Before working for the town, Andrew worked as a planner for the City of Roanoke and the Town of Blacksburg.

In his spare time, Andrew enjoys running, volunteering and spending time with his family. You can often find him at the Fun Run held at the Christiansburg Farmers' Market every Thursday at 5:30 p.m.

Andrew can be reached by email at awarren@christiansburg.org.

In The Know

Fall is just around the corner, which means Fall Cleanup is almost here! Public Works crews will be collecting items from Oct. 6 - 19, and you can find out more about this free service on the reverse side. Leaf collection will follow Fall Cleanup, beginning Oct. 22 and running through December.

If you're looking for things to do around town, check out the reverse side for a list of upcoming events. Don't forget that Town Hall and the Christiansburg Recreation Center will be closed on Labor Day, Sept. 3. The Christiansburg Aquatic Center will be open from 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Garbage normally collected on Mondays will be collected on Tuesday, Sept. 4, with Tuesday's regular collection.

The reverse side also contains information about two contests that may be of interest to local artists, and a reminder about what items are accepted by our curbside recycling service.

See you around town!

Keep F.O.G. out of Christiansburg's sewer system

With the holiday season only a couple months away, now is the perfect time to start practicing responsible disposal of FOG (fats, oils and grease).

If disposed of improperly, FOG will build up in the Town's wastewater systems, obstructing pipes, damaging infrastructure, causing overflows and harming the environment. When mixed in small amounts with hot water, FOG flows easily. But once it cools in a pipe, it will harden. When the solids build up over time, lines get blocked, which can cause sewer overflows. These spills can happen without warning anywhere there is a sewer line. Sewage may overflow into your yard or even back up into your house or business. Blockages and overflows are expensive to fix, so the easiest way to approach the problem is by preventing it in the first place!

How to Dispose of F.O.G. Properly

Do not dispose of your cooking oil, grease and fat by pouring it down the drain. Instead, pour your used cooking oil, grease and fat into a covered container. These covered containers can be placed in the trash can with your regular garbage.

Avoid using your garbage disposal whenever possible. Do not put food scraps down the drain. Instead, scrape food scraps from your dishes into the garbage.

Use a paper towel to "dry wipe" grease and oil from dishes and cookware before you wash them. The wipe can be thrown away with your regular garbage. Do not use cloth towels or rags to wipe plates or to clean greasy, oily dishes. When you wash the cloth, the fats, oils and grease will end up in the sewer.

Do not rinse FOG from cooking ware with hot water. Hot water will melt the fats, oils and grease off the dishes and into the sewer pipes, where it will later cool and begin to accumulate.

During Fall Cleanup, the Town will pick up tree and brush trimmings, old furniture, a maximum of two appliances, and up to four tires per household. Residents may also choose to set out their brush for monthly brush collection. Please visit www.christiansburg.org/brush to learn about monthly brush collection service.
